HOW MANY FORECASTS WILL I RECEIVE PER MONTH??

After signing up, you will immediately start receiving all of our daily, weekly and monthly forecasts.

These forecasts will give you the bias for all 28 pairs (buy or sell) as well as the most important support and resistance levels for each pair.

And the primary difference between each forecast is the time horizon for which they are intended to be used.

Here is a full description of each forecast and the appropriate time frame:

1) You will receive 5 daily forecasts per week (Monday through Friday). This is a total of 22 daily forecasts per month (average of 22 trading days). And these forecasts are intended to be used on a day-to-day basis.

Therefore, the daily forecast that you receive tonight, is intended to forecast the potential market direction for the upcoming trading day.

2) You will receive 4 weekly forecasts per month. And these forecasts are intended to be used on a week-to-week basis.

Therefore, the weekly forecast that you receive this weekend, is intended to forecast the potential market direction for the upcoming trading week.

3) You will receive 1 monthly forecast each month. And these forecasts are intended to be used on a month-to-month basis.

Therefore, the monthly forecast that you receive this month, is intended to forecast the potential market direction for the upcoming month (next 30 days).

HOW MANY PAIRS CAN I TRADE WITH EACH FORECAST??

YOU CAN TRADE AS MANY (OR AS FEW) PAIRS AS YOU WISH:

After receiving their forecasts, roughly 70% of our clients will select the specific pairs that they would like to focus on for the day, week or month ahead. And then these clients will apply their own strategies to these pairs according to their own preferences.

Such as scalping, trend-trading, reversal trading, swing-trades, range-trades, breakouts, momentum trading, news-trading etc.

The remaining 30% of our clients will simply enter a large basket of trades, according to the bias that we have for each pair (buy or sell). These baskets are the simplest way to use our forecasts. And this is also the most common method used by our clients who trade options. As this method allows you to disperse the risk throughout a wide range of high-probability trades.

Overall, the majority of our clients will trade anywhere from 10 to 15 pairs from each of our forecasts. But some of our clients choose to trade as many as 20+ pairs. Especially the clients that like to create baskets of open trades. While other clients will trade as few as only 1 or 2 pairs.

When you receive your forecast, you can choose to trade as many (or as few) pairs as you wish. This decision is completely up to you. And it simply depends on your own preferences and the strategies that you choose to apply.

WHAT STRATEGIES AND WHAT TIME FRAMES CAN I TRADE??

YOU CAN USE OUR FORECASTS WITH ANY STRATEGY

AND ON ANY TIME FRAME THAT YOU WISH:

The specific strategy that you use and the time frame that you trade is essentially a matter of personal preference. And the total number of trading options that you have is almost limitless. Especially when you consider that you will also receive actionable price levels.

These levels can be used for anything from setting pending orders, to setting profit targets and even reversal orders. Such as closing a trade and re-entering in the opposite direction if a certain price level is breached.

Overall, there are a ton of different strategies that are used by our clients. Everything from scalping the 1-Minute charts to riding the long term trends on the weekly charts. And everything in between.

Approximately 50% of our clients will stick to one particular strategy on one particular time frame. Then another 30% of our clients will distribute one particular strategy across various time frames. As some clients like to spread out the risk across the time-frame continuum.

Then there are around 20% of our clients who like to spread the statistical distribution as much as possible (both the risk and the returns), by applying various strategies across various time frames. This particular approach takes the most time and effort. But this is a highly advanced and highly effective style of trading. And this is the same approach used by some of the largest hedge funds in the world. As this kind of diversification across strategies and time frames is the best way to dampen volatility within a portfolio. Creating the smoothest possible (most stable) equity curves. While avoiding any sharp, dramatic drawdowns.

Again, the specific strategies that you use and the time frames that you decide to trade are completely up to you. The number of options that you have is almost limitless. And some of our clients have even created highly-complex, custom EA's to manage their selected pairs with their own automated strategies.

ALSO PLEASE NOTE:

If you have any specific strategies that you are considering using, you can feel free to send us any questions or concerns that you might have. As we offer professional strategy development services to many of our private clients. And one of our dedicated account managers would be happy to discuss any particular questions or concerns that you might have.

Remember, we are not just here to provide you with a profitable forecasting service. Our goal with all of our clients (long term) is to also help you become a better overall trader.

CAN I CANCEL MY SERVICE IF NECESSARY??

Yes, of course. Our service runs on a month-to-month basis. And you are free to cancel anytime.

A very, very small percentage of our clients ever cancel their service within the first year (less than 4%). As they are very happy to be making consistent profits. But we also understand that circumstances can sometimes change. And if you ever need to cancel your service, we will be here to assist you.

IF I DECIDE TO CANCEL MY SERVICE, DO I RECEIVE A REFUND??

We do not offer any refunds under any circumstances.

AND HERE IS A DETAILED EXPLANATION WHY:

Unfortunately, there are lots of people trading forex who are simply looking to get rich quick. These people usually have very little trading experience. And they usually have highly unrealistic expectations about trading. As they REALLY THINK that they are going to find the 'Holy Grail'. And they REALLY THINK that they are going to become rich in a few months.

These clients go around buying all kinds of indicators and subscribing to all kinds of services. And if they don't get 100% winning trades (or double their account in 30 days), then they will make ridiculous complaints or try to demand a refund. Even if the product or service is highly profitable. And even if their losses are caused by their own reckless trading.

Not only would this be unfair to us (as a company) but it would also be unfair to our over 1,400 loyal clients from all around the world who pay for their service every month. And our policy (no refunds under any circumstances) is the only way we can protect ourselves against these kinds of unrealistic clients.

We hope you understand our position on this matter and please do not hesitate to let us know if you have any questions regarding this issue. As we are always here to help.

OUR EXPERIENCE AND OUR TRADING PERFORMANCE:

Unlike 99.9% of the forex vendors online, we actually trade for a living.

We are REAL TRADERS, who trade REAL MONEY every week. And we have been managing client funds (profitably) since 2006. During which time we have out-performed every major asset-class, including equities, commodities, bonds and the Credit Suisse Hedge Fund index.

In addition to managing client funds, we also currently own a Guinness World Record for the most consecutive winning trades in a row. With 1,426 consecutive winning trades. (Please see the video on our site)

And we recommend that you take a look at the myfxbook.com page below. Where you will see how one of our clients was able to make 737 consecutive winning trades in 2018, using one of our proprietary strategies. And we later turned this strategy into an EA for this client.

<https://www.myfxbook.com/members/jaringfx/scorpionfx/2547870>

AND THERE IS MUCH, MUCH MORE PERFORMANCE DATA AVAILABLE FOR YOU TO ANALYZE:

For further details, we strongly recommend that you take a look at our 3 short videos (on our site) and take a look at our performance page. As this will give you an excellent perspective on our performance and approach to the market.

As you will see, we have posted dozens and dozens of trades on our website over the last several years. And in 2017 alone, these trades resulted in over 10,000 pips of profit.

These trades have all been posted publicly. And they have all been posted weeks and even months in advance of the eventual outcome. Providing full validity and transparency to our clients. And completely negating the possibility of any manipulation of the results.
